

Grained Dispatch.

BRainerd, Minnesota

The effect and cultured Boston people cast 9,735 effective ballots. The rowdy West can defeat the Bostonese voting every day in the week.

With the president of the United States making an appeal to the governor of a state for the commutation of a death sentence, we are able to gather a fair idea of the great and glorious country we live in.

A woman who was reproved by her landlady for burning too much gas committed suicide by turning on the gas. A woman always gets even with a woman.

The general belief is that this is going to be an unusually hard winter, and to make things worse, it is now said that there will be an extra dividend for the Vanderbilt this year.

The price of Wales has made a pair of boots. No matter what happens now, he can claim that his life has not been entirely wasted.

It is now becoming more evident every day that those who wish to bring reforms into Turkey will have to carry them out.

So far, no one has suggested that perhaps Li Hung Chang forgot to tick an American blimp, and that he was the engine, and she resented the inference that she is not a new woman.

Emperor William has an infallible remedy for foreboding. Whenever time happens to drag he assembles a lot of soldiers somewhere and tells them what a great man his father was.

Anarchist Mowbray thinks that music propagates anarchy. This is a great and weighty truth. Who has not heard music that made him feel like a hungry anarchist, ready to destroy the musician?

A dashing and beautiful young lady in Loganport, Ind., has been paying an election bet by the wholesale kissing of all young men she meets. This looks like a dawn of prosperity for the young men of Loganport.

A certain actress has sought the bubble reputation, not by having her diamonds stolen, but by offering to build a home for "aged actresses." There are, to use the words of Betsy Prig, no "sich" persons. Aged actresses develop into ballet girls.

A boy who used to play Little Lord Fauntleroy, is now the quartermaster of the football team of the University of North Carolina. This is one instance which shows that a boy's early training does not always handicap him when he grows up.

Prof. James of Harvard is devoting a needless amount of time and energy to prove that genius is not a disease. Strongly enough, he fails to name anybody who ever said it was. The professor will probably next attempt to demonstrate that good health is not contagious.

Out of 343,267 immigrants who have reached our shores the past year, 2,021 were sent back as lacking the qualities of good citizens. The government will be wise to use even greater care in the future. Uncle Sam is not hankering after the "refuse population" of Europe. He could more easily spare some of the "refuse" already on hand.

From all accounts of the trial firing at sea of the gun of the monitor Teror, she has an appropriate name. To fire a thousand pounds of powder and ball and a ton of metal in one volley without the vessel giving a tremor is something that shows the modern warship can be accomplished in modern armament warfare.

Toronto has organized a "Citizens' league to put down scoundrels." It means business, too. Just such organizations are needed in every city. The bawdy enchanter of the pedestrian more than all other vehicles, when the scoundrel is abroad. Bicycle clubs and the lovers of the royal sport should cordially co-operate with the people in abating the nuisance.

"The actor who drinks is in a bad way, but the actor who cuts is in a worse way." This is the motto of the matinee girl who has the abundance that preserves the waist line in her special stage favorite. Does she realize the stoicism with which he turns from the pleasures of the table, and that to continue in her favor he often goes hungry? This is the martyrdom of art.

Clara Barton's report as to the destitution in Armenia corroborates the regular press reports from Asiatic Turkey, but it doesn't throw any light upon the cause of the distress. Miss Barton is probably doing the right thing in limiting her observations to the domain of charity, but the world would like to hear something authoritative and official in regard to the atrocities of the Turks in Armenia.

The report that King Oscar of Sweden and Norway had erected a granite monument to two Americans who had died in Sweden must have caused considerable excitement in New York, where the report first read "Grant" and "Nelson." New York could hardly forgive any other community if it presumed to detract any from the glory of its own celebrated contingent Grant monument performance.

Herr Bebel, one of the social democratic leaders of the reichstag, is a bold man. In a fiery speech recently, he denounced the immunity of army officers from punishment for wanton outrages committed against civilians, declaring that the emperor's recent order of the new recruits bordered on madness. It now remains to be seen whether the warlike young William will clap Herr Bebel into jail for treason, or consult an alienist as to his own mental condition.

Only a year ago something more than one-half of the enlisted men in the United States navy were foreigners, but there has been a marked change in the short interval. In his report, which has just been issued, Admiral Roosevelt, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, shows that 72 per cent of the enlisted men now in the service are American citizens, and more than 82 per cent of the apprentice boys are of American birth. At this rate of increase it will not be long before every man who serves under the flag will have a proprietary interest in it.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

DIED.
On Tuesday the angel of death entered the household of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bean, and took from that happy home their beloved son, Stephen L. Bean, Jr., a bright and winsome child, aged 3 years, 6 months and 21 days. The little sufferer will only a few days, being stricken down on the Friday preceding with spinal meningitis. All that medical skill could do was done to save the little one, but in vain, as he died shortly before noon on Tuesday, Dec. 1st. Funeral services were held at the family residence at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, Rev. T. M. Edmunds conducting the services, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Bean and family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Wilford M. Murray, a farmer whose home is about three miles from Audubon, Minn., died at the N. P. Sanitarium in this city on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, of peritonitis, aged 30 years. Deceased was brought from his home for treatment, but his case was hopeless from the start. The remains were shipped to his home on Wednesday for burial.

Harry Robinson died on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, 1896, in this city, of Bright's disease of the kidneys, aged 43 years. Deceased, who is a brother of Mrs. Fannie E. Smith and Miss Bertie Robinson, was a printer by trade, and for several years conducted a job printing establishment in Seattle and other towns in Washington and Oregon. About a year ago he returned to this city, and has since made his home here with his mother and Miss Bertie on Juniper street. His death has been expected at any time for several weeks past. Funeral services were held yesterday at the house, Rev. Edmunds officiating.

Suicided.
On Wednesday evening, Chris Wessel, an aged citizen of Daguerre Brook, committed suicide by strangling himself. He is the father-in-law of John Knebel, with whom he makes his home. He ended his earthly career by the novel method of tying a long strip of sacking about his neck and then lying down on the floor, threw the other end of the improvised rope over a beam of the bed, caught the other end in his hands and pulled his head up against the beam, choking himself until life was extinct. He was a very old man, having arrived at the age of 84 years. He has been acting very strangely lately, and was unquestionably out of his head at the time.

"Shaun Rhue."
When the great Irish comedian, Joseph Murphy, and his New York stock company, were booked to appear at the Sleeper opera house in this city on Wednesday evening, Dec. 9th, it was with the understanding that the play to be presented would be "Kerry Gow," which has been given by Mr. Murphy and his company with wonderful success. At the request of a number of prominent citizens of Brainerd, "Shaun Rhue" will be presented next Wednesday evening instead of "Kerry Gow." The best dramatic critics of Brainerd pronounce "Shaun Rhue" the better play of the two, although both are gems of Irish life and character.

In the play of "Shaun Rhue," it will be remembered that Larry Donovan, the young Irish lad who believes he is about to leave Ireland forever, visits his mother's grave and sings the famous song, "A Handful of Earth." Shortly thereafter the plot shows Larry disguised as a great jolly, triple-loving, North-of-Ireland man, known as Red John ("Shaun Rhue"). In this "double" Joseph Murphy, who created both characters, does an exceedingly clever thing in the way of make-up and acting. How clever, may be judged from the comment of a well-known San Francisco alderman who had witnessed a performance of "Shaun Rhue" and was congratulating Mr. Murphy on the play and his acting of it. "Do you know, I was blubbering like a fool by the time you finished singing that song, but begorra I'm a Belfast man myself, and when Shaun Rhue appeared, I recognized him? He and I worked together—wuz partners in a boat we had on the Ulster Canal, and I snuffled harder 'n ever for joy at seeing him again."

Prices have been fixed at the low figures of 50 and 75 cents for reserved seats, and 25 cents for general admission, and 35 cents for gallery. The reserved seat sale will open at Atwood & Johnson's drug store on Saturday morning.

SPECIAL NOTICE
On account of the length of the play the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock. Do not forget this, and be in your seat early.

Dissolution of Partnership.
The law partnership heretofore existing between J. H. Warner and W. H. Crowell is dissolved by mutual consent. J. H. Warner collects all unpaid firm accounts, and retains and continues the unfinished firm business. W. H. Crowell retires from the business. Hereafter the business will be conducted by J. H. Warner individually.

His Last Spree.

On Tuesday morning a man whose identity is not known was found dead in one of the card rooms in the Vendome saloon. The man came into the saloon the evening before about 11 o'clock in an intoxicated condition and asked the bartender, James Mead, if he could stay awhile and get warm, and as the night was a bitter cold one Mr. Mead told him to go into the card room and lie down, and gave him a coat to put under his head. The man did as directed and shortly afterwards another man came in and went into the card room adjoining. About 3 o'clock the last man who came in got up and came out of the room and Mr. Mead told him he better lie down with the other fellow and he did so. In the morning when it was time to sweep out the man was called and the last one to lie down got up but the other man did not move, and on going to him he was found to be dead. Coroner Dean was at once notified, and after viewing the remains removed the body to Losey & Dean's morgue. The man's death is undoubtedly due to excessive drinking and exposure. He had been about town for some time and for three or four days had been stopping at the lodging house in the Second ward. One of his companions said his name was Kelley and that his home was somewhere in Michigan, but nothing further could be learned and there was nothing on his body to identify him.

Assigned.
The grocery firm of Line & Brooks has made an assignment for the benefit of the creditors, Dr. G. S. McPherson being the assignee. We are unable at this time to get a reliable statement of the assets and liabilities, but we understand that the assets will exceed the liabilities by considerable, and it is possible their difficulties may be adjusted and business resumed.

In Receiver's Hands.
The Brainerd Building & Loan Association has gone into the hands of receivers, Geo. D. LaBar and John N. Nevers having been appointed receivers by the court. The association was at one time the strongest and best in the state, and as far as the management is concerned, would have continued to be so. Some years ago, as our readers all know, the treasurer absconded, having used or taken with him about $15,000. This so badly crippled the association that it was thought by many that a receiver ought to be appointed and the affairs wound up, but it was decided to continue the business. Since then so many stockholders have withdrawn, that for the protection of the balance it was deemed best to place the Association in receiver's hands and terminate the business.

The affairs are in fairly good shape. The assets amount to about $25,000, $15,000 worth of property and $10,000 due on mortgages. The association owes only about $5,000 to outside parties, the balance of the liabilities being the money due the stockholders. There are at the present time 344 pledged and 516 unpledged stockholders, who will have to bear what loss there is, if any, but it will be very small as the total assets and liabilities, we are informed, are about the same.

Caught a Robber.
Deputy U. S. Marshal Sheehan arrested Andrew Golden near this city on Saturday and took him to St. Paul, where extradition papers were issued and the prisoner taken to Omaha, where he will be tried, with two other men, on the charge of having been implicated in a post-office robbery at Somerset, Iowa, in 1895. The United States officials had been looking for Golden for a long time and finally located him in a lumber camp on the B. & N. M.

Bids for Wood.
Sealed proposals will be received up to 10 a. m. Tuesday, January 5th, 1897, for 25 cords of 4 foot green jack pine wood and also 25 cords of 4 foot green tamarac wood. The board of county commissioners reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

DIED.

On Tuesday the angel of death entered the household of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bean, and took from that happy home their beloved son, Stephen L. Bean, Jr., a bright and winsome child, aged 3 years, 6 months and 21 days. The little sufferer was ill only a few days, being stricken down on the Friday preceding with apical meningitis. All that medical skill could do was done to save the little one, but all in vain, as he died shortly before noon on Tuesday, Dec. 1st.
Funeral services were held at the family residence at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, Rev. T. M. Edmunds conducting the services, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Bean and family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their affliction.

Willford M. Murray, a farmer whose home is about three miles from Audubon, Minn., died at the N. P. Sanitarium in this city on Tuesday, Dec.
1st, of peritonitis, aged 30 years. Deceased was brought from his home for treatment, but his case was hopeless from the start. The remains were shipped to his home on Wednesday for burial.

Harry Robinson died on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, 1896, in this city, of Bright's disease of the kidneys, aged 43 years. Deceased, who is a brother of Mrs. Fannie E. Smith and Miss Bertie Robinson, was a printer by trade, and for several years conducted a job printing establishment in Seattle and other towns in Washington and Oregon. About a year ago he returned to this city, and has since made his home here with his mother and Miss Bertie on Juniper street. His death has been expected at any time for several weeks past. Funeral services were held yesterday at the house, Rev.
Edmunds officiating.

Suicided.

On Wednesday evening, Christians, an aged citizen of Daggett Brook, committed suicide by strangling himself. He is the father-in-law of John Knobel, with whom he makes his home. He ended his earthly career by the novel method of tying a long strip of sacking about his neck and then lying down on the floor, throw the other end of the improvised rope over a beam of the bed, caught the other end in his hands and pulled his head up against the beam, choking himself until life was extinct. He was a very old man, having arrived at the age of 84 years.
He has been acting very strangely lately, and was unquestionably out of his head at the time.

"Shaun Rhue."

When the great Irish comedian, Joseph Murphy, and his New York stock company, were booked to appear at the Sleeper opera house in this city on Wednesday evening, Dec.
9th, it was with the understanding that the play to be presented would be "Kerry Gow," which has been given by Mr. Murphy and his company with wonderful success. At the request of a number of prominent citizens presented last Wednesday evening instead of "Kerry Gow,"
The best dramatic critics of Brainerd pronounce "Shaun Rhue" the better play of the two, although both are gems of Irish life and character.

In the play of "Shaun Rhue," it will be remembered that Larry Donovan, the young Irish lad who believes he is about to leave Ireland forever, visits his mother's grave and sings the famous song, "A Handful of Earth." Shortly thereafter the plot shows Larry disguised as a great, jolly, tipple-loving, North-of-Ireland man, known as Red John (or "Shaun Rhue"). In this "double" Joseph Murphy, who created both characters, does an exceedingly clever thing in the way of make-up and acting. How clever, may be judged from the comment of a well-known San Francisco alderman who had witnessed a performance of "Shaun Rhue" and was congratulating Mr. Murphy on the play and his acting of it. "Do you know, I was blubbering like a fool the time you finished singing that song, but begorra I'm a Belfast man myself, and when Shaun Rhue appeared, I recognized him? He and I worked together,—wuz partners in a boat we had on the Ulster Canal, and I snuffed harder 'n ever for joy at seein' him again."

Prices have been fixed at the low figures of 50 and 75 cents for reserved seats, and 35 cents for general admission, and 25 cents for gallery. The reserved seat sale will open at Atwood & Johnson's drug store on Saturday morning.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

On account of the length of the play the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock.
Do not forget this, and be in your seat early.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The law partnership heretofore existing between J. H. Warner and W. H.
Crowell is dissolved by mutual consent. J. H. Warner collects all repaid from accounts, and retains and continues the undivided firm business. W. H. Crowell retires from the business. Hereafter the business will be conducted by J. H. Warner individually.

Special Sale of Books.

On Monday, December 7th, Atwood & Johnson will place on sale for our patrons only 500 volumes of fine cloth bound books, at the remarkably low price of 20 cents a volume. Sold elsewhere at 35 cents a volume. Remember, ONE DAY ONLY.

Assigned.

The grocery firm of Line & Brooks has made an assignment for the benefit of the creditors, Dr. G. S. McPherson being the assignee. We are unable at this time to get a reliable statement of the assets and liabilities, but we understand that the assets will exceed the liabilities by considerable, and it is possible their difficulties may be adjusted and business resumed.

In Receiver's Hands.

The Brainerd Building & Loan Association has gone into the hands of receivers, Geo. D. LaBar and John N.
Nevers having been appointed receivers by the court. The Association was at one time the strongest and best in the state, and as far as the management is concerned, would have continued to be so. Some years ago, as our readers all know, the treasurer absconded, having owed or taken with him about $15,000. This badly crippled the Association that it was thought by many that a receiver ought to be appointed and the affairs wound up, but it was decided to continue the business. Since then so many stockholders have withdrawn, that for the protection of the balance it was deemed best to place the Association in receiver's hands and terminate the business.

The affairs are in fairly good shape.
The assets amount to about $25,000, $15,000 worth of property and $10,000 on mortgages. The Association owes only about $5,000 to outside parties, the balance of the liabilities being the money due the stockholders.
There are at the present time 344 pledged and 516 unpledged stockholders, who will have to bear what loss there is, if any, but it will be very small as the total assets and liabilities, we are informed, are about the same.

Elected Officers.

Adair Council No. 1569, Royal Ar-caneum elected the following officers on Tuesday evening for the ensuing year:

Representative—W. H. Mantor.
Alterate—A. J. Christie.
Regent—James Cullen.
Vice Regent—A. L. Mattes.
Orator—M. J. Nevers.
Past Regent—A. J. Christie.
Secretary—H. L. Casey.
Collector—Geo. H. Brown.
Treasurer—N. Linneman.
Chaplain—S. R. Adair.
Guard—Ferd. Boor.
Warden—E. J. Ponchane.
Sentry—E. F. Maurer.
Trustees—J. W. Koop three years,
J. F. McGinnis, two years.

Prosperity

Comes only to those who help themselves. He who desires health, wealth and happiness must get up and hustle.
The "good times coming"—of which we have had promises—seem to be about to be realized, but we must all stand shoulder to shoulder and assure their permanency.

Good crops and good prices for wheat and other farm products will put the farmers in comfortable circumstances and enable them to pay their debts (if they have any), buy groceries, clothing, boot and shoes, furniture, fuel, and all the other necessaries and luxuries of life.

The merchants will buy goods, more goods and better goods if the farmer sells his grain at a fair price and pays his bills promptly. Cash in hand enables the country merchants to buy his wares more cheaply from the city jobber, and permits him to sell them to his customers for less money than ever before.

The farmer holds the key to the country's prosperity. To him we look for the salvation of the republic. He tills the soil, and with the help of a kind Providence, produces the results which, when coined into money, furnish employment to countless wage-earners throughout the nation.
It is money which supports all classes of people, rich and poor, and greases the wheels of commerce all over the world.

Spend the dollars as they come into your possession. "A nimble squirence is better than a slow shilling." Keep the money in circulation. Then there will be no "tight money," no bank failures, no manufacturers lying idle, no trusts, no monopolies—nothing, indeed, but the turning over of an honest dollar for the purpose of making another honest dollar as a return for the original investment.

Ride on the railroad occasionally—or oftener—and visit your neighboring towns and watch the business methods of your friends and acquaintances. But against the enlightened people of the period and learn to appreciate the progressive spirit of the present age. You can learn something new every day; something of benefit to yourself, your family and your associates, and it won't cost much money to acquire the information.

And finally if you can induce any of your Eastern cousins to visit you at Thanksgiving time, or during the Christmas holidays, please write them to travel on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, and oblige.

Yours truly,
Geo. H. HERRFORD,
Gen'l Pass. Agt.

His Last Sleep.

On Tuesday morning a man whose identity is not known was found dead in one of the card rooms in the Ven-dome saloon. The man came into the saloon the evening before about 11 o'clock in an intoxicated condition and asked the bartender, James Mead, if he could stay awhile and get warm, and as the night was a bitter cold one Mr. Mead told him to go into the card room and lie down, and gave him a coat to put under his head.
The man did as directed and shortly afterwards another man came in and went into the card room adjoining.
About 3 o'clock the last man who came in got up and came out of the room and Mr. Mead told him he better lie down with the other fellow and he did so. In the morning when it was time to sweep out the men were called and the last one to lie down got up but the other man did not move, and on going to him he was found to be dead. Coroner Dean was at once notified, and after viewing the remains removed the body to Loney & Dean's morgue. The man's death is undoubtedly due to excessive drinking and exposure. He had been about town for some time and for three or four days had been stopping at the lodging house in the Second ward.
One of his companions said his name was Kelley and that his home was somewhere in Michigan, but nothing further could be learned and there was nothing on his body to identify him.

Caught a Robber.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Sheehan arrested Andrew Golden near this city on Saturday and took him to St.
Paul, where extradition papers were issued and the prisoner taken to Omaha, where he will be tried, with two other men, on the charge of having been implicated in a post-office robbery at Somerset, Iowa, in 1895.
The United States officials had been looking for Golden for a long time and finally located him in a lumber camp on the E. & N. M.

BRainerd, MINNESOTA.

The effect and cultured Boston people cost 9,735 defective ballots. The rowdy vote can beat the Bostonese voting every day in the week.

With the president of the United States making an appeal to the governor of a state for the commutation of a death sentence, we are able to gather a fair idea of the great and glorious country we live in.

A woman who was reproved by her landlady for burning too much gas committed suicide by turning on the gas. A woman always gets even with a woman.

The general belief is that this is going to be an unusually hard winter, and, to make things worse, it is said that there will be an arm dividend for the Vanderlites this year.

The price of Walrus has made a pair of boots. No matter what happens now, he can claim that his life has not been entirely wasted.

It is now becoming more evident every day that those who wish to bring reforms into Turkey will have to carry them out.

So far, no one has suggested that perhaps Li Hung Chang forgot to take any American bloomers back to the emperor, and she resented the inference that she is not a new woman.

Emperor William has one infallible remedy for foreboding. Whenever time happens to drag he assembles a lot of soldiers somewhere and tells them what a great man his father was.

Anarchist Mowbray thinks that nature "propagates anarchy" through noise and weighty truth. Who has not heard music that made him feel like a hungry anarchist, ready to destroy the musician?

A dashing and beautiful young lady in Logansport, Ind., has been paying an election bet by the wholesale sale of all young men in the city. This is the kind of dawn of prosperity for the young men of Logansport.

A certain actress has sought "the bubble reputation," not by having her diamonds stolen, but by offering to build a home for "aged actresses." There are, to use the words of Betsy Prig, no "sick" persons. Aged actresses develop into ballet girls.

A boy, who used to play Little Lord Fauntleroy, is now the quarterback of the football team of the University of New York. This is one instance which shows that a boy's early training does not always handicap him when he grows up.

Prof. James of Harvard is devoting a needless amount of time and energy to prove that genius is not a disease. Strangely enough, he fails to name anybody who ever said it was. The professor will probably next attempt to demonstrate that good health is not contagious.

Out of 343,267 immigrants who have reached our shores the past year, 2,023 were sent back as lacking the qualities of good citizens. The government will be wise to use even greater care in the future. Uncle Sam is not hankering after the "refuge population" that has been let in on a ton of metal in one volley without the vessel giving a tremor is something which shows the marvels that can be accomplished in modern naval warfare.

From all accounts of the trial firing at sea of the guns of the monitor Terrible, she has an appropriate name. To fire a thousand pounds of powder and load a ton of metal in one volley without the vessel giving a tremor is something which shows the marvels that can be accomplished in modern naval warfare.

Toronto has organized a "Citizens' League" to put down socialism." If it has business, it has such an organization as needed in every city. The league endangers the pedestrian more than all other vehicles, when the scowler is abroad. Bicycle clubs and the lovers of the royal sport should cordially co-operate with the people in abating the nuisance.

"The actor who drinks is in a bad way, but the actor who eats is lost." says one who ought to know. Has the matinee girl any idea of the abstinence that preserves the waist line of her special stage favorite? Does she realize the stoicism with which he turns from the pleasures of the table, and that to continue in his favor he often goes hungry? This is the martyrdom of art.

Charles Barton's report as to the destruction in Armenia corroborates the regular press reports from Asiatic Turkey, but it doesn't throw any light upon the cause of the distress. Miss Barton is probably doing a right thing in limiting her observations to the domain of charity, but the world would like to hear something authoritative and official in regard to the atrocities of the Turks in Armenia.

The report that King Oscar of Sweden and Norway had erected a granite monument to the memory of the late queen, who had been so much loved, caused considerable excitement in New York, where the report first read "Grant" monument. New York could hardly forgive any other community if it presumed to detract any from the glory of its own celebrated continuous Grant monument performance.

Herr Bebel, one of the social democratic leaders of the reichstag, is a bold man. In a fiery speech recently, he denounced the immunity of army officers from punishment for wanton outrages committed upon civilians, declaring that the emperor's recent address to the new recruits bordered on madness. It now remains to be seen whether the warlike young William will clap Herr Bebel into jail for treason, or consult an alienist as to his own mental condition.

Only a year ago something more than one-half of the enlisted men in the United States navy were foreigners, but there has been a marked change in the short interval. In his report, which has just been issued, Admiral Ramsey, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, shows that 72 per cent of the enlisted men now in the service are American citizens, and more than 82 per cent of the apprentice boys are of American birth. At this rate of increase it will not be long before every man in the navy except the flag will have a proprietary interest in it.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DIED.

On Tuesday the angel of death entered the household of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bean, and took from that happy home their beloved son, Stephen L. Bean, Jr., a bright and winsome child, aged 3 years, 6 months and 21 days. The little sufferer was ill only a few days, being stricken down on the Friday preceding with spinal meningitis. All that medical skill could do was done to save the little one, but all in vain, as he died shortly before noon on Tuesday, Dec. 1st. Funeral services were held at the family residence at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, Rev. T. M. Edmunds conducting the services, and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Bean and family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Wilford M. Murray, a farmer whose home is about three miles from Andover, Minn., died at the N. P. Sanitarium in this city on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, of peritonitis, aged 39 years. Deceased was brought from his home for treatment, but his case was hopeless from the start. The remains were shipped to his home on Wednesday for burial.

Harry Robinson died on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, 1896, in this city, of Bright's disease of the kidneys, aged 43 years. Deceased, who is a brother of Mrs. Fannie E. Smith and Miss Bertie Robinson, was a printer by trade, and for several years conducted a job printing establishment in Seattle and other towns in Washington and Oregon. About a year ago he returned to this city, and has since made his home here with his mother and Miss Bertie on Juniper street. His death has been expected at any time for several weeks past. Funeral services were held yesterday at the house, Rev. Edmunds officiating.

Suicided.

On Wednesday evening, Chris. Wessel, an aged citizen of Daggett Brook, committed suicide by strangling himself. He is the father-in-law of John Knobel, with whom he makes his home. He ended his earthly career by the novel method of tying a long strip of sacking about his neck and then lying down on the floor, throw the other end of the improvised rope over a beam of the bed, caught the other end in his hands and pulled his head up against the beam, choking himself until life was extinct. He was a very old man, having arrived at the age of 84 years. He has been acting very strangely lately, and was unquestionably out of his head at the time.

"Shaun Rhue."

When the great Irish comedian, Joseph Murphy, and his New York stock company, were booked to appear at the Sleeper opera house in this city on Wednesday evening, Dec. 9th, it was with the understanding that the play to be presented would be "Kerry Gow," which has been given by Mr. Murphy and his company with wonderful success. At the request of a number of prominent citizens of Brainerd, "Shaun Rhue" will be presented next Wednesday evening instead of "Kerry Gow."

The dramatic critics of Brainerd pronounce "Shaun Rhue" the better play of the two, although both are gems of Irish life and character.

In the play of "Shaun Rhue," it will be remembered that Larry Donovan, the young Irish lad who believes he is about to leave Ireland forever, visits his mother's grave and sings the famous song, "A Handful of Earth." Shortly thereafter the plot shows Larry disguised as a great, jolly, tipple-loving, North-of-Ireland man, known as Red John (or "Shaun Rhue"). In this "double" Joseph Murphy, who created both characters, does an exceedingly clever thing in the way of make-up and acting. How clever, may be judged from the comment of a well-known San Francisco alderman who had witnessed a performance of "Shaun Rhue" and was congratulating Mr. Murphy on the play and his acting of it. "Do you know, I was blubbering like a fool by the time you finished singing that song, but heorra I'm a Belfast man myself, and when Shaun Rhue appeared, I recognized him! He and I worked together—was partners in a boat we had on the Ulster Canal, and I snuffed harder 'n ever for joy at seein' him again."

Prices have been fixed at the low figures of 50 and 75 cents for reserved seats, and 25 cents for general admission, and 25 cents for gallery. The reserved seat sale will open at Atwood & Johnson's drug store on Saturday morning.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

On account of the length of the play the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock. Do not forget this, and be in your seat early.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The law partnership heretofore existing between J. H. Warner and W. H. Crowell is dissolved by mutual consent. J. H. Warner collects all unpaid firm accounts, and retains and continues the unfinished firm business. W. H. Crowell retires from the business. Hereafter the business will be conducted by J. H. Warner individually.

His Last Spree.

On Tuesday morning a man whose identity is not known was found dead in one of the card rooms in the Vendomo saloon. The man came into the saloon the evening before about 11 o'clock in an intoxicated condition and asked the bartender, James Mead, if he could stay awhile and get warm, and as the night was a bitter cold one Mr. Mead told him to go into the card room and lie down, and gave him a coat to put under his head. The man did as directed and shortly afterwards another man came in and went into the card room adjoining. About 3 o'clock the last man who came in got up and came out of the room and Mr. Mead told him he better lie down with the other fellow and he did so. In the morning when it was time to sweep out the men were called and the last one to lie down got up but the other man did not move, and on going to him he was found to be dead. Coroner Dean was at once notified, and after viewing the remains removed the body to Losey & Dean's morgue. The man's death is undoubtedly due to excessive drinking and exposure. He had been about town for some time and for three or four days had been stopping at the lodging house in the Second ward. One of his companions said his name was Kelley and that his home was somewhere in Michigan, but nothing further could be learned and there was nothing on his body to identify him.

Assigned.

The grocery firm of Line & Brooks has made an assignment for the benefit of the creditors, Dr. G. S. McPherson being the assignee. We are unable at this time to get a reliable statement of the assets and liabilities, but we understand that the assets will exceed the liabilities by considerable, and it is possible their difficulties may be adjusted and business resumed.

In Receiver's Hands.

The Brainerd Building & Loan Association has gone into the hands of receivers, Geo. D. LaBar and John N. Nevers having been appointed receivers by the court. The Association was at one time the strongest and best in the state, and as far as the management is concerned, would have continued to be so. Some years ago, as our readers all know, the treasurer absconded, having used or taken with him about $15,000. This so badly crippled the Association that it was thought by many that a receiver ought to be appointed and the affairs wound up, but it was decided to continue the business. Since then so many stockholders have withdrawn, that for the protection of the balance it was deemed best to place the Association in receiver's hands and terminate the business.

The affairs are in fairly good shape. The assets amount to about $25,000, $15,000 worth of property and $10,000 due on mortgages. The Association owes only about $5,000 to outside parties, the balance of the liabilities being the money due the stockholders. There are at the present time 344 pledged and 516 unpledged stockholders, who will have to bear what loss there is, if any, but it will be very small as the total assets and liabilities, we are informed, are about the same.

Caught a Robber.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Sheehan arrested Andrew Golden near this city on Saturday and took him to St. Paul, where extradition papers were issued and the prisoner taken to Omaha, where he will be tried, with two other men, on the charge of having been implicated in a post-office robbery at Somerset, Iowa, in 1895. The United States officials had been looking for Golden for a long time and finally located him in a lumber camp on the B. & N. M.

Bids for Wood.

Sealed proposals will be received up to 10 a. m. Tuesday, January 5th, 1897, for 25 cords of 4 foot green jack pine wood and also 25 cords of 4 foot green tamarac wood. The board of county commissioners reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

MRS. C. GRANDELMYER.

"Doing my own work."

How often have you heard a tired woman make this remark? Very often, no doubt. The

Majestic Steel Range

Was made for these noble women who devote their lives to the comfort and welfare of others. There are many things that commend this invention, but not the least is this: It makes house-work no longer a drudgery, but a pleasure.

We have tried it; we know what it can do; we recommend it.
